

FRP Panels Built for Kitchens. Designed for Reality

Commercial kitchens, food prep, storage rooms and restroom areas put extreme stress on walls and ceilings. Heat, steam, grease, and frequent sanitization can quickly break down inferior materials. KAL-LITE® FRP delivers a USDA-compliant, impact-resistant surface that stands up to constant abuse while staying easy to clean. Whether in quick-service restaurants, fine dining establishments, or cafeterias, our panels keep kitchens safe, sanitary, and operational for the long haul.

Why Restaurants Choose KAL-LITE®

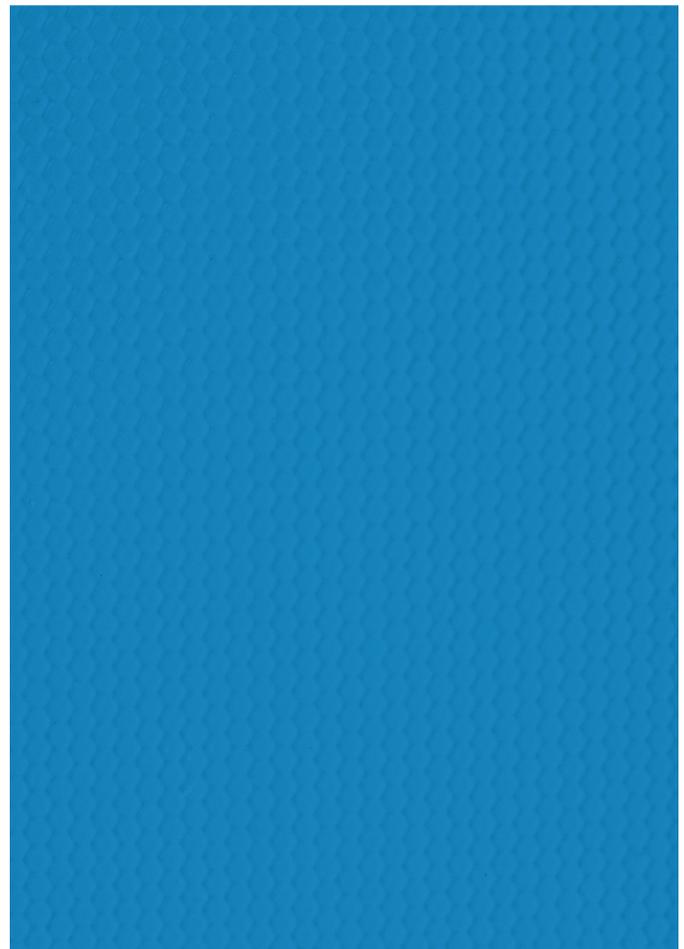

- Cleanability without compromise
- Non-porous, easy-to-sanitize surfaces that stand up to frequent washdowns and harsh cleaners
- Impact-resistant panels that don't dent, swell, or delaminate like PVC or cheap laminates
- Design Flexibility
- Wide range of textures and colors, including custom options, so compliance never means boring

Built for Foodservice Environments

KAL-LITE® FRP panels are commonly specified for:

- Commercial kitchens & prep areas
- Dishwashing stations
- Walk-in coolers & freezers
- Restrooms & locker rooms
- Service corridors & utility spaces

Our panels are USDA Accepted, moisture-resistant, and engineered to maintain their appearance under real-world conditions.

Smarter FRP Starts at the Factory

Unlike many suppliers, we control our manufacturing. That means:

- Available in a wide range of colors and finishes. Custom color minimums around 2,000 sq ft, compared to other manufacturers with minimums of 6,000 sq ft
- Cut-to-size panels at no extra charge
- Reels available for high-volume or specialty applications
- .045, .060 & .090 thicknesses available in up to 500 ft reels
- Lead times in weeks, not months
- No minimum orders on stock material
- Direct shipments to job sites available

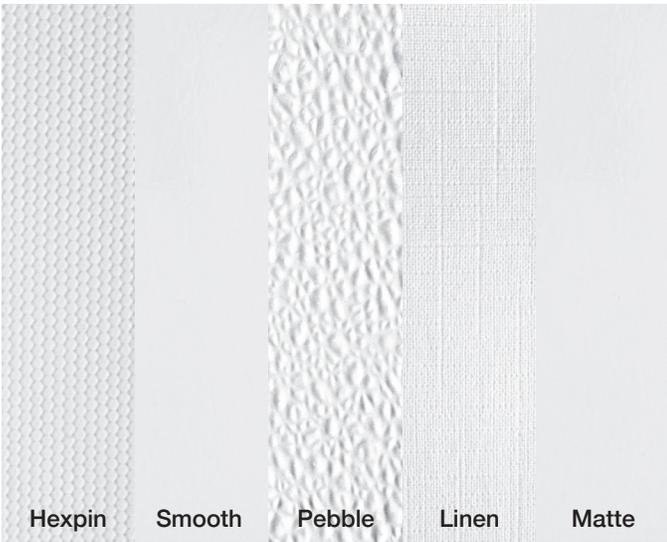

You get material that installs cleanly and performs long after opening day.

Friendly. Reliable. Personal.

We stand by F.R.P. service:

- Friendly – Real people answer the phone
- Reliable – Quotes and lead times you can trust
- Personal – Advice based on your project, not a script

No project is too small. No question is brushed off. Whether you're building new, renovating, or standardizing finishes across multiple locations, KAL-LITE® helps you specify FRP with confidence.
